Gladstone's Uncertain Promises Put Under Criticism
 -Mr. Childers's Sour Stomach-More Distress
 Feared in Ireland-End of the Home Rule League-The Russian Students.

LONDON, November 24.—The marquis of Salisbury, in an address before the Scottish conservative club, of Edinburgh Thursday night, taunted the liberal government with having adopted its predecessor's Egyptian policy. He strongly denounced the action of the government toward Ireland and condemned the arrears of rent act. He had, he said, favored the schemes of a peasant proprietary that were now impossible, as such a surplus fund had been otherwise disposed of. Stigmatizing to vagueness of Gladstone's utterances, he said: I confess I don't often envy the United States, but their institutions possess one feature which appears to me a subject for the greatest envy, namely, their magnificent institution of the supreme court. If their parliament passes measure inconsistent with the constitution of the country, it is null and void, and is negative at once, thus giving stability to the institutions of the country, which under the system of vague and mysterious promises we look for in vain. The remarks were received with applause by the Right Honorable Hugh C. Childers, war secretary, who is broken down, and he has been ordered to go abroad. It has been officially reported to the government that widespread distress is being experienced in the potato lands, and is most seriously affected through want of employment on the farms, and the failure of the potato crop, are Sligo, Ballinacorney and Seavon, and the greatest portion of Galway. The distress is also being felt in the counties of Connaught, owing to the continually heavy demand upon freshmen in America to support the land league there has been considerable decrease in remittances to the struggling natives in Ireland. This has reduced many of the natives to a state of complete destitution.

THE PROCEDURE DEBATE.

Consideration of the procedure rules was resumed in the house last night. The tenth rule was carried by a vote of 82 to 26. This rule provides that if the speaker or chairman of the committee of the whole house shall be of opinion that a motion for adjournment of debate, or of the house during any debate, or that the chairman do report progress, or do leave the chair is made for the purpose of obstruction, he may forthwith put the question thereupon from the chair.

In the house of commons to-night, the eleven-hour rule was observed, and the usual procedure rules were both carried. Rule eleven provides that on reading the order of the day for consideration of the bill as amended the house do proceed to consider the same. About the question being put, unless the Government had been asked to do so, the speaker gave its consideration, or notice has been given to recommit the bill. Rule twelve provides that whenever the committee of supply is appointed the consideration of ordinary business may be suspended. The estimates of the navy was the first order of the day on Monday the speaker shall leave the chair without putting any question, unless an amendment to the estimates proper to be raised in supply on first going into committee on army, navy and civil services respectively. Mr. Trevelyan, chief secretary for Ireland, replying to a question by Mr. Healey, said that the Government had no objection to the Irish Free World and Irish Nation, which had arrived in Ireland, had been seized, but the stoppage of the circulation of those papers in England was unnecessary.

SEVEN MEN KILLED.

The railway bridge at Bromley, near London, fell this morning. Seven workmen beneath the structure eating breakfast were killed. The bridge was on the main line of the Great Eastern Railway, and the accident besides those killed several persons were injured. The continental service by this line is stopped by the accident. The final meeting of the home rule league was held to-day and the association was dissolved.

FRENCH POLITICS.

PARIS, November 24.—The Evénement states that M. Duhamel, chief clerk of the computer department, has absconded with a large sum of money.

There are renewed reports of ministerial difficulties. It is expected that M. Herisson, minister of public works, or M. Tierard, minister of finance, will resign.

A. J. A. J. The standard this morning says it believes that the attention of the United States government has been directed to the claims of France in regard to Madagascar. The standard also has evidence in the town of Sainte. Several of the Sisters of Charity attached to the hospital there, including the lady superior, have been attacked by the disease. At a cabinet council the minister of the interior has just read a synopsis of the reports on anarchism from the prefect of the department, according to which there are germs of public danger in the large industrial centers.

A. J. A. J. The cathedral of St. Dennis this afternoon, and stole a quantity of gold and silver objects, including precious relics and crowns of historical value. Thirty-one medals, two monstrances and seven royal crowns. Their total intrinsic value is estimated at 100,000 francs.

ST. PETERSBURG, NOVEMBER 24.—An official announcement of the closing of the university here, states that the agitation had been noticed among the students at the beginning of the year, and that the government had consented to the length of distributing circulars express sympathy with the students of Kazon university. The curator applied for the assistance of the police, who arrested one hundred students. Fourteen of them, who were the chief instigators of the agitation, have been rusticated.

A MONTENEGRIN CLAIM.
CONSTANTINOPE, November 24.—The governments of Montenegro have informed the Porte that unless the district of Kalachica is ceded immediately to Montenegro, 4000 men

BRITISH BRUTALITY.

Is Evidence of It Found in a Forgotten Vault in New York.

NEW YORK, November 11.—While the workmen, who are engaged in digging away the foundations of the old post-office, formerly the old Dutch church, at Nassau and Cedar streets, this morning, happened to place in the floor of one of the vaults which was covered with boards. Upon these being removed was found a pile about five feet square, brick-lined, containing a mass of human bones and numberless skulls and human bones piled in promiscuous confusion. Up to one o'clock fourteen skulls and five boxes of bones had been removed. The skulls were of all ages and only been dug about two feet down. It is not known yet how deep it is or how many skeletons it contains. The presence of so many bones naturally suggests the idea that the church had no record of it. The discovery has created quite an excitement, and traveller, for ten or twelve years postmaster at Shelbyville, Ky., was found lying dead in a stable on his premises this morning with a bullet through his head. A pistol was by his side, indicating that he had shot himself with suicidal intent. He was a man of high standing. No reason for the act is known to exist. He leaves a family.

MONMOUTH, Ills., November 23.—The Scotchmen who attempted to take away a lot of Clydesdale horses from the farm of Colonel Robert Hallowsay, of Alexis, were yesterday found over on a charge of conspiracy and raised imprisonment. Colonel Hallowsay has been given for $100,000 damages for slander, and they have been taken up by the United States court for an accounting with the Clydesdale company of Glasgow, which they represent. At a hearing yesterday Colonel Hallowsay proposed to submit the rights of the parties to arbitration, and it is thought that the proposition will be accepted.

A Heavy Gale.

from Buffalo and Detroit report a heavy gale in the lakes last night. Several vessels were wrecked in Buffalo harbor. The crews of two were saved by the life-saving corps. A floating grain elevator was blown over and sunk. A schooner was aground on Calchester Reef, Lake Erie, with the crew lashed in the rigging and inaccessible on account of the high sea. The weather is piercing cold and no doubt exists that the reports of shipwreck, with possible loss of life, will be numerous within a day or two.

NORFOLK, Va., November 24.—The steamer totary of the Roanoke, Norfolk and Baltimore teamboat company, was burned on Wednesday night at Astoria, on the Roodoke river. She was receiving a cargo for Baltimore at the time of the fire. About 240 bales of cotton and some general freight were destroyed or damaged by being thrown overboard.

nd fifth floor of Arrott's two mills, occupied by Clark & Keer, woolen manufacturers, Priestly & Bro., manufacturers of dress goods and Wedley & Tellow, cotton yarn manufacturers, burned out last night. The loss estimated at $150,000. Sixty-five employees got out by fire escape.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., November 24.—After 2 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the boarding house of Mrs. R. A. Smith, on South Tennessee street, destroying a portion of the building. Ten persons, including Katie Daily and Ella Keenan, who were sleeping in an upper room, were rescued.

For sale everywhere. Price five cents.

The signal service bureau reports indicate for the South Atlantic states to day, cold and fair weather, winds chiefly to northerly and higher pressure.

Mr. Williams, of Decatur, is a good and efficient postmaster, and if he is to be turned out of office, against the wish of the people, for not voting for Mr. Buck for congressman, it will make a greater stir than Mr. Arthur's henchmen believe.

A PARTY of New Englanders left Washington yesterday for the south, representing the New England Manufacturers' and Mechanics' institute. They want to get exhibits from the south for the great New England show. Georgians will naturally do all they can to help.

A GARFIELD fair in the capital of Washington may not be an objectionable affair, but when the people in charge attempt to control the entrance and exit, and keep the people out, and to carry on their bazar with congress in session, it becomes, to say the least, a gross impropriety.

INTENDING advertisers are informed that to-morrow's paper will consist of fourteen pages, and in order to arrange the advertisements properly it will be absolutely necessary to send favors in at an early hour. Positively no advertisements can be received after 9:30 p.m., with insertion guaranteed. Advertising patrons will readily see that it will be to their advantage to comply with our request.

It seems impossible to put through any official work at Washington without corruption or fabrication. If there is anything which should be accurately done it is the work of the census. The present compilation so far as made public is grossly incorrect and its accuracy has been continually impugned in so many directions that it looks as if the figures would be worse than useless. The latest instance is an understatement of Philadelphia manufactures of nearly thirty-five millions dollars.

It is now the time of year when the Indian war is regularly reported. The latest one reported is from the Nevada Indians. In this connection a record of engagements with the hostile Indians has just been compiled at Sheridan's headquarters. His division embraces more than a million square miles of territory, stretching from the British to the Mexican line, and inhabited by about 175,000 Indians. During the last fifteen years, more than 1,000 officers and enlisted men have been killed or wounded in the 400 and odd armed collisions with the Indians. No record of the Indians killed is given, probably because there are so few.

MR. BRILL CHANDLER kindly says that the subject of the transfer of certain marine subdivisions of the treasury to the navy department is a "live topic." It is. So is the subject of reducing several bureaus of the navy department to nothing at all. But returning to the treasury it is astonishing to note the sub-divisions and bureaus which have been added to it until now it is an immense patronage bureau almost beyond belief. The main sub-divisions of the treasury department are as follows: Supervising architect, bureau of engraving and printing, bureau of the mint, steam-boat inspection, bureau of statistics, life-saving service, first and second controllers, commission of customs, register of the treasury, first, second, third, fourth, fifth, and sixth auditors, treasurer of the United States, controller of the currency, commissioner of internal revenue, light house service, coast and geodetic survey, and marine hospital service. These incongruous bureaus are patent to all as having no connection and it will soon become necessary to separate some of them and make a separate department.

THE SENATE IN DOUBT. The republicans are by no means sure that they will control the senate after the fourth day of next March. They are not certain that Mr. Van Wyck, of Nebraska, an avowed anti-monopolist and a man who cares very little for party claims, will enter their caucus, and it is also possible that Mr. Hill, of Colorado, will not. Mr. Mitchell, of Pennsylvania, will be apt to act very independently, if Mr. Cameron is permitted to use the federal patronage exclusively in the interest of the stalwarts. But beyond the action of these senators there is doubt in relation to the politics of the new Nebraska senator. Mr. Saunders cannot succeed himself, while the democrats and anti-monopolists can control the legislature and send an anti-monopolist to the senate. The Colorado legislature is still claimed by all parties. There is a bitter feud between Senator Hill and Secretary Teller, and it would not be at all surprising if an anti-republican claim the seat next March. There are chances for anti-republican gains in both Michigan and Illinois. The people of both states are disgusted with all the republican leaders, and a repetition of the surprising elections of the winter of 1876-77 is in order. It is certainly to be hoped that the senate will be taken from the control of the Virginia tricksters, even if the power of the administration becomes thereby fully established. A republican majority, in other words, is better for all concerned than a republican-readjuster majority, in which the small readjuster element is in a position to demand an exorbitant price for its contribution to the combination.

THE BESSEMER BUSINESS. Just now the country is treated to predictions of a collapse in the iron and steel markets. It is emphatically a case of a great deal of smoke and very little fire. So far as iron is concerned, there has been no considerable drop either in price or demand. Every rolling mill in the country is busy, and orders are coming in freely. The price of pig iron may go down, but it will be by an easy scale, such as the general situation warrants.

The trouble, or rather the talk of troubles, arises over the price of steel rails. A very large Bessemer mill at Scranton, Pennsylvania was without orders enough to keep its men and machinery employed, and in preference to shutting down it offers rails at the mill at $40 a ton—a fall of $5 a ton. No steel mill has stopped, and most of them have large orders that will carry them through the winter. The fuss made over the subject is not at all in accordance with the facts.

There are several things that have led in all probability to this steel scare. In the first place the supply has outrun the demand. While the country was building 12,000 miles of new railroad and relaying the track of many thousands miles more, the capacity of the mills was increased, until they could readily produce 1,500,000 tons a year. The country now needs not over one million tons a year, and a sharp competition for orders has sprung up. The Scranton mill got all it wanted by reducing the price of rails to $40. Then, too, the railroad companies that want rails have been holding off to hear the market. They want rails at about the Scranton price. Then, too, the mill owners are anxious to squeeze down prices both of labor and material, and threats of shutting down are a part of their scheme. Beyond all this the entire industry desires congress to see that the present duties are maintained. Steel rails that cost in this country from $40 to $45 are worth only $25 in England. Add $8 for freight and insurance, and we have the price that English rails would be worth laid down in New York, if congress had not imposed a duty of $28 a ton. In other words, a new or an old railroad company is taxed even now from $13 to $18 a ton on all the steel rails it uses.

If a well-established industry—the Bessemer mills have in the past paid immense dividends—cannot prosper under a duty that is prohibitory and that is really beyond all reason, it is time to inquire whether protection does really protect? By this system of duplicated and complicated taxation the cost of production is increased until all hope of a foreign market has to be abandoned, and the home demand slackens the entire business is severely affected. In the present case a reduction of production seems to be the only remedy. England can undersell us in all other markets, and our petted mills are flat just as soon as the high pressure of railroad expansion in this country is withdrawn.

There is great reason to believe, however, that the present scare is chiefly artificial. A great steel mill is now in process of construction in Pittsburg, and shrewd observers think that when the mill owners and railroads have gained all they desire, the mills will readily find means to maintain prices without stopping any of their machinery, and without shortening the hours of labor. Four large eastern mills are known to have orders ahead for over 200,000 tons of rails, and the remainder of them will not be compelled to shut down except possibly for a short period to let the demand overtake the supply. The bottom has by no means dropped out of the business.

RECRUITS FOR MONROISISM. The Mormon propagandists continue to ply their vocation in north Georgia, and they ply it successfully. Quite recently they shipped a train load of their unfortunate victims through Atlanta to Utah. There were eighty-five souls, mostly women, in this consignment, and it is not too much to say that not one of these unfortunate understood the precise nature of their errand, or had the remotest idea of the fate that awaited them; and yet it would be no worse for the women who have undertaken this journey, and no worse for the country, if they had entered houses of prostitution. This would have been a terrible step indeed, but the very shock of it would have exerted a profound moral influence upon the worst most likely to be effected by a good or bad example.

As matters stand, these unfortunate have gone to Utah with the idea and intention of promoting the cause of religion. They have been grossly deceived by the Mormon propagandists, and they will discover when it is too late that they have been drawn headlong into a whirlpool of prostitution from which there is no possible avenue of escape. The pretence of the wretches who have covered north Georgia with a network of spies, runners, missionaries and preachers is that there has been a division in the Mormon church, and that the branch which they represent has renounced polygamy. There is reason to believe that this division is not genuine, but a movement to deceive the country and the government. Prostitution and adultery are the basis of this monstrous association, and it may safely be said that every woman who goes to Utah under the auspices of these propagandists will become, in some shape or other, the victim of the villainous lusts of the high priests and elders of this modern abomination.

The law passed by the last legislature in relation to the operations of these Mormon propagandists is, in its terms and in the very nature of things, a dead letter. It is a statute against the preaching and propagation of polygamy, but the emissaries of organized prostitution are too cunning to violate it. They pretend, on the contrary, to be opposed to polygamy, for they know that only by disavowing this, can they hope to make any converts among the honest, simple-minded people of the mountains. They even go so far as to denounce polygamy, as we have been told, but when their victims arrive in Utah they discover, when it is too late, that the "sealing" process covers prostitution, polygamy, and everything else that the Mormon priesthood practices. The crime of these Mormon propagandists in enticing honest women into their strongholds of vice is one which the law cannot reach, but it is one which the public sentiment of north Georgia can remedy. The people should protect themselves. Every community and every individual should, in this matter, be a law unto itself and unto himself. Tolerance in any shape or form is an accessory before and after the fact. These emissaries should not be allowed to preach Mormonism in any community or before any audience. The people can protect themselves and they owe it to society to do so. No law that the legislature could pass would meet the emergency, and unless the people themselves take prompt measures to suppress the work of Mormon propagandists, there will be a continual stream of Georgia women flowing to the west to recruit the ranks of this outrageous system. We do not advise murder nor outrage. There is not a community nor a neighborhood in the mountains that cannot rid itself of the Mormon emissaries without hurting a hair of their heads.

You will hear it said that there was nearly a panic in Wall street the other day on account of the decline in stocks. And yet why should there be a panic in consequence of a decline in stocks? The thieves, and robbers, and sharks, and speculators in Wall street can bring about a decline in stocks any day of the year or any hour of the day. But it should be borne in mind that the interests which these stocks represent are just as valuable when the decline is at its lowest as they were when the stocks were at their highest. The lesson of this is that if a panic can be brought about by the manipulation of purely fictitious values, the only remedy the country has is to hang the sharks who perform the manipulation to the nearest lamp post.

The republicans continue to open up new avenues of business. They are now engaged in cobbing the mails between Denver and New York right before each other's eyes. The first duty of the new democratic congress will be to select the site for a two hundred acre penitentiary for the benefit of the republicans. Admission should be made free.

CAPTAIN W. G. WALLER, who since the death of Colonel Thompson, has been editor of the Savannah News, has bought the Thomassville Enterprise. Captain Waller is a most genial gentleman, a polished writer, and an experienced journalist. Socially and professionally he will be a great acquisition to Thomassville.

The German holders of some of the bogus bonds issued when Georgia was under republican rule, have been holding a meeting. There is but one remedy for these unfortunate, and that is a suit against Henry Clews and the men who placed these so-called bonds, knowing them to be worthless.

The response made by the young men of Georgia to the invitation to demoralize the democratic party strictly from the inside doesn't seem to be very loud. The truth is the young men know just as much about politics as the old hacks, and they are not embittered by any prejudices.

The Emperor William has presented the duke of Connaught with the order of Frederick the Great. This shows that Bismarck doesn't propose to invade England by way of the channel tunnel, and now thousands of noble hearted Englishmen can get a little needed rest.

WITH Ohio as the pivotal state in politics, and Cincinnati as the music and art center of the western hemisphere, surely America ought to be satisfied with her achievements. Did Mr. Henry James, Jr., ever tackle the glowing civilization of the bounding west?

EDITOR TRIPLETT, of Thomassville, dropped into the village yesterday. He desires us to announce that he is not on his way to Tennessee. He has just come to Atlanta because Atlanta appears to be a good place to go to.

WHEN people come to understand the peculiar tactics to which Wall street resorts in order to plunge the country into a panic, the men who invent the tactics will find themselves in the midst of very large trouble.

THE fact that the noble red men of the plains have begun to swarm and buzz, shows that the government agents have already begun their swindling operations.

THE steel rail men say they are going out of business. If this is the case, there is no longer any necessity for levying a duty of $28 a ton on steel rails of foreign make.

The law of emancipation of 1880, has resulted in the first accurate return of the number of slaves in the island of Cuba. They amount altogether to about 137,500. The number, however, is steadily diminishing. Consular returns show that since the law came into force 16,015 individuals have been granted their liberty. It is estimated that 69 per cent were freed by the voluntary act of their owners, 11 per cent under the provisions of the court and penal laws in force before 1880, while only 23 per cent resulted directly from the new law. Of these 23 per cent four-fifths obtained their freedom by purchase.

A PROTEST. EDITORS CONSTITUTION: Will you allow a Georgian and a life-long democrat the use of your columns to protest against the malignant and slanderous attacks, which are being made against certain prominent citizens of the state, and through them against the democratic party and the majority of the best people of the state.

A democrat of consistent life and faith claims to have the right to denounce the conduct of these calculators in the manner in which they are depicting themselves in our state politics. This right I have because I am a democrat, and because the man that discredits my party and the disgrace that fastens on it destroys the influence, and therefore, reinforces that dread power known as mediocrity. It is a sad commentary on the sinister achievements and bad heart that they are called upon to achieve a task so monstrous, so base that some of their own papers shrink from it. I can't enlarge or emphasize that meaning.

One of the charges I make against them is that by their previous practice and experience as penny-a-liners they are importing into Georgia journalism the savage and disgraceful spirit of a method of the yankee press. It is considered in the region from which they reserve their models, that if a gentleman does not place his wounded name and fame by a verdict in damages, he is considered a coward. They are not so well as they would have themselves. As against their mendacious attacks on the purity of democratic representation in Georgia, I have to say that Governor Colquhoun is utterly powerless as against their attacks. His religious profession is not their business. If they are answerable to the demands of the code of honor, they know very well that Governor Colquhoun's religious profession is not their business. If they are answerable to the demands of the code of honor, they know very well that Governor Colquhoun's religious profession is not their business. If they are answerable to the demands of the code of honor, they know very well that Governor Colquhoun's religious profession is not their business.

The receiver is always as bad as the thief, and therefore in the case made the democratic party is either a thief or a thief or it is a corrupter of the state. These so-called bad men whom I sustain. Let Governor Colquhoun take comfort in the fact that he dare not assail the face and figures of his administration. Let him rest assured that it is there had an unsound spirit in that as large as a pin's head that they with the quick instinct of a "blue bottle" fly, would have deposited their accustomed maggots in it. So, they do not just come and assault the face and figures of the state administration, and therefore they resort to such base and contemptible and disgraceful means as to bring their filthy mouths to some of the most fair-minded correspondents of the press. They have found a man's nest, and they are pouring a couple of couples of it. If at heart is true, it were better for certain investigators to avoid a touch of the state's affairs, and to leave the matter to the state's authorities.

THE KILN PHILOSOPHY. From the Detroit Free Press. "The other day," began the old man with a half-shamed expression of countenance, "when one of members of dis club discribed me dyin' my ha'r was a little black an' sweet like de discribed de greatest astonishment dat a pusion o' my y'ars would be so vain. "You find a drunkard you find a man wid a weakness. He may be honest an' truthful, but when you offer him whiskey you peel de patch off his weak spot. If infirmance am brought to b'ar to reform dat man, watch him. He am jist as sartin to break out in some odder spot as de sun am to rise an' set. He will run to hos-races or poker games, or he will dress to kill, or run after women, or develop unhin to prove dat he can't keep a tight rein on his ha'r character at once."

"Bum a gambler an' what do you make o' him? Passion fur play am a weakness. Shake it off an' de weakness breaks out in some odder spot. I have known a boss, temperate gambler to reform from dat habit and become a drunkard. "When you find a man wid a weakness fur horses let him alone. Take his horse away an' he will replace it with sunthin mo' dsagreeable."

"Look upon lyn' as a weak spot on de human ba'r! Few men lie to lie, but de rest de contrary. I want to catch de most fish, or see de biggest b'a'y, cum de nightest to bein' killed. Lyn' may be called an ambitious weakness. Smith lies to get even wid Jones, an' Jones to get even wid Brown, an' so it goes. Reform a liar an' some odder horse has got to bust."

"Gem'en, when de Lord an' de church refuses to recognize perfection in man why do we expect an' demand it. Half a milliyun clergymen in de centry am tellin' us from de pulpit each Sab-bath day dat man am weak an' sinful an' full o' tricks an' yet when a pusion beats us out o'

THE ART LOAN.

Notes of the Third Night of the Exposition—The Art Loan—Announcements.

Last night the Art Loan exhibition attracted a large and elegant crowd, and in every respect the entertainment was better than it ever had been. The art gallery was embellished with several new charms. The pictures which were there before had enough of beauty, but the new pictures complete one of the finest exhibitions ever seen in the south. In all the departments there was something of special interest, and the number of exhibits was visibly increased. In the old furniture room Mrs. Conley showed a bible 200 years old. Mrs. Plach, in the Japanese room with Mrs. Stovall and Miss Leyden, showed the charms of the most curious art. Among them were some contributions from Mrs. Young J. Allen, of China, the wife of the Methodist missionary who went there as a boy to make such a wonderful career of usefulness and honor. Mr. Lewis Clarke in the lace department showed several new attractions, among which were some lace owned by Atlanta ladies and valued at $1,000, $500, $300, $200. The lace department is one of the features of the exhibit. The historical department was full nearly all the evening. Mrs. Rhoads Hill and the ladies who assist her, their quiver of vision every evening. The numerous curiosities attract general attention and commendation. The original copy of the constitution of the Confederate States, one of the most valuable of the exhibits. The bright and fascinating fair room, the amusing burlesque art gallery, the lemonade stand, and the flower stand, all had their admirers, and all deserved the attention they received. Music was furnished during the evening by the superb orchestra. The Art Loan grows in beauty and importance. Everybody should enjoy it.

The first excursion will come over the Western and Atlantic road, from Chattanooga and Rome, and all intermediate points. It will be on the 28th inst., and the fare will be one cent a mile. On the 29th it is the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia road will bring people from Mac and intermediate points at half rates. On the 30th inst., the Atlanta and West Point company will take all who want to see real art, and the fare will be one cent a mile. On the 1st of December, both the Georgia road and the Richmond and Danville will bring from Atlanta and all other points on their lines people at half rates. All these tickets will be good two days, and these excursions should bring in fully five thousand people.

The special feature of the Art Loan will be a concert by the Musical Union band, under the leadership of Mr. C. M. Sawyer. The regular orchestra will also be on hand. Music and art will form a delightful combination.

During the daylight hours to-day the schools will fill the library hall. The young led by Mrs. B. L. land's institute will be there, and so will Professor Meane's pupils, and the Kirkwood school, and good part of the public schools of the city. A splendid lunch at twenty-five cents each will be served to the scholars, while the regular lunch can be had by the citizens as usual.

Ladies who are getting up Sunday dinners would do well to call on Mrs. M. Johnson, of the Art Loan restaurant. She will supply them with all they need, prepared in the best manner.

Among the additions of yesterday were a handsome library case covered with wood carving, the property of Major Mims; some handsome bronzes placed on the music stand, and three oil paintings added to the Freeman and Crankshaw exhibit.

The officer of the day, Mr. Alex. C. King and Mr. C. R. Harmon, succeeded yesterday in getting all the light that is needed. The interior was flooded with light last night, and the scene at 9 o'clock was one of rare brilliancy.

Plenty of seats will be on hand to-day, so that all can enjoy the pictures and music at ease.

The lace department received yesterday a $2,000 bridal set. It is something to be proud of.

The acquisitions of the Japanese department include a fine specimen of Japanese embroidery from Nagasaki, and a copy of a Japanese morning paper.

The fan department was enriched yesterday with a dozen elegant fans, including one presented as a souvenir by General La Fayette to a Georgia lady.

The Liverpool Cotton Circular.
LIVERPOOL, November 24.—This week's circular of the Liverpool cotton brokers association, says: Cotton was in extensive demand on Monday, with some advance. Since the market has been quiet with a tendency in favor of buyers. Quotations are now little changed from last week. American was in improved request at the beginning of the week, at 16 1/4 advance, which has since been lost. In sea island, there was more business and holders met the demand freely. Quotations are unchanged. Futures opened firm and gradually improved until Monday, when the highest rates were paid, the prices being from 7 1/4 to 10 1/4 higher, near position showing extreme improvement. A reaction followed and prices closed steady at an advance of 6 1/4 to 10 1/4 higher, and 16 1/4 to 2 1/4 for winter months.

The Grain Circular.
LIVERPOOL, November 24.—The leading weekly grain circular says: Grain continues very firm. Wheat is dearer in all positions. Prices in most markets are six pence higher. Cargoes, and especially those on passage and for shipment, are held for an advance with good demand. At to-day's market wheat was in good inquiry, and there was a fair trade at the highest prices, in some instances 1d more was realized. Flour was in active request and prices were firm. Corn was about two pence higher. Business done was small.

The Manchester Market.
LONDON, November 24.—The Manchester Guardian in its commercial article says the market is quiet and the demand is less active.

Mr. Villard to sell 5,000,000 Acres.
NEW YORK, November 24.—President Villard, of the Northern Pacific railroad, and the syndicate appointed to sell certain lands east of the Missouri river, met to-day and decided to sell 5,000,000 acres of said land at $4 an acre payable in Northern Pacific bonds at the rate of $12,000,000 worth of that stock having been retired for the purchase.

DEED OF TRUST

By virtue of the power and authority given by a certain Deed of Trust, executed by THE BACKLICK MANUFACTURING CO.
of Fayetteville, to W. C. HODGSON, which is recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Cumberland County, in Book Q, No. 3, page 36, the following property will be exposed to sale by public auction, viz: The Eight Tracts of land containing about 700 Acres, being the property known as

HOPE MILLS.
This valuable manufacturing property is situated seven miles south of Fayetteville, N. C., directly on the proposed extension of the Cape Fear and Valley Railroad. The Cotton Mill is a handsome brick building of 2 stories, with dry basement cellar, 125 by 32 feet, containing 300 spindles with room for machinery for the manufacture of cloth.
Besides the Cotton Mill there are saw and Grist Mills, Store House, Tenant Houses and other improvements, all in good order. Rockfish Creek, an unfailing stream, furnishes about 200 horse power for the mills. This property cost originally over $100,000. The mills are now running and can be improved at any time.

For further information inquire of T. C. Oakman,
Esq., Hope Mills, N. C., W. C. Houston, Jr., Esq., 112 South First street, Philadelphia, or C. W.
Broadfoot, Esq., Fayetteville, N. C.
Place of sale: Market House, Fayetteville, N. C.
Time of sale: December 4th, 1882, at 12 o'clock.
Terms:—One Thousand Dollars Cash
when the property is knocked down; balance in four equal payments of $250 each, on the first, second, third and fourth days of December, 1882. W. C. HODGSON, Trustee.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.
At the expiration of Alderman Beerman's term of office, the south side of the railroad will have no immediate representative in the aldermanic board, as there are two of the ones holding over from the north side. Justice demands that Alderman Beerman's successor should be from the south side of Atlanta and they present the name of that old, tried public spirited citizen, Major John H. McCallin, as a suitable man to fill the place and one that will be supported by the whole people of Atlanta.

Help the Poor.
Every friend of humanity is invited to assemble at Y. M. C. A. hall on Monday afternoon next, (November 27) at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of considering the condition of the poor of our city, and to organize a relief association if thought advisable. There is a cry from many destitute homes and suffering hearts, and it is hoped there will be a hearty response to this request. With the pastors of our city give voice to this request from their pulpits, and be present with their congregations. J. H. PARKER and OTHERS.

PERSONAL.
Mr. Jacob Haas has returned from New York. Colonel W. H. Sage is registered at the Kimball. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hill, of Chicago, are at the Kimball.

Mr. Isaac Russell, of Savannah, is stopping at the Kimball.
Mr. H. S. Glover, ex-postmaster at Macon, is at the Markham house.
Captain John Triplett, of the Thomasville Times, is a guest at the Kimball.

Miss Lucy Holtzclaw, of Dalton, is in the city, and is the guest of Miss Love.
Mr. Ritterger, of Philadelphia, is a guest of Mr. Jacob Haas, on Washington street.

General D. M. DuBose, of Washington, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Camille DuBose, are stopping at the Kimball.
Mr. Zach Taylor last night received a car load of fine Norman stallions which are now on exhibition at his stables on Hunter street.

There will be some fine singing at the First Baptist church Sunday morning, when Mr. Wharton is to preach. Miss Laura V. Moor will sing.

M. Emord Remenyi, the best of living violinists, was in Atlanta yesterday, having missed connection for Montgomery, where he was to have appeared last night. He is playing a short engagement in Alabama, prior to going to Mexico, where he will be the guest of General John Fisher. Possibly, Remenyi could be persuaded to play in Atlanta, and if so, the chance should not be missed, for he is undoubtedly the best fiddler—as he calls himself—of today, and has never appeared here.

A correspondent pays the following compliment to the Buford house: It is drawn toward midnight; it is chilly, and as the silence creeps in it grows spooky. I guess you "head and ears" under the cover—until reminds me, I must say one word for some of the Buford house here in Charlotte. This is our H. J. Kimball man's fifth and last hotel, and is just the sweetest thing imaginable. Charlotte is lucky in possessing the finest hotel in the south, without a single exception.

Yankton, Dakota, is claimed, abounds in lovely and attractive women and young girls.

Dr. J. W. Gibbons, of Arkansas, writes: "For many years my wife was a sufferer from a terrible female complaint that baffled the skill of all physicians around me. She used Dr. Dromgole's English Female Bitters, they cured her sound and well, and I do not hesitate to say they saved her life. nov 21—dly tues thursat w 1t

Tell It On.
Why not? Good news ought to be told, and it is good news that Hunt's Remedy has cured the worst of kidney diseases, and can do it again and again. There are abundant testimonials to this fact. Mr. Joshua Tutthill, of Saginaw, Mich., was cured of Bright's Disease. Mr. John Hunt, of Providence, died when death seemed imminent. Mr. S. G. Mason, of Providence, of rheumatism which crippled him, and a host of others of similar diseases, which threatened dissolution. And what Hunt's Remedy has done, it will still do. It is the great kidney and liver medicine of the age. Tell out the good news to all. nov 21—dly tues thursat w 1t

DAVID H. Y DOUGHERTY

I received Friday last a shipment of that peculiar and Oriental fabric known as the "Joe-John" production. The fiber from which this peculiar fabric is made is very long and tough, and of a porous nature.

Its culture being largely adapted to the extreme southern Pacific slope, I am trying to introduce the culture and utility of this article in this country, and will thank you to call and see the production on exhibition.

D. H. DOUGHERTY

Hosiery—I have just opened an immense shipment of elegant new goods in this department. Throw aside your darned old socks, and come in and I will remunerate you for the losses thus sustained.

D. H. DOUGHERTY

Harris' best five-hook lace kid gloves, in blacks and all colors, for One Dollar a pair. This is a grand opportunity to secure bargains in gloves. Nothing in this market to equal them in quality or price.

D. H. DOUGHERTY

This week I will show some special and grand bargains in Table Linens, Towels, and Napkins. And the grand drives will continue in Dress Goods.

D. H. DOUGHERTY

I have just received a large shipment of Cloaks, Dolmans, Jackets and Coverings that will astonish you in prices. Many of them will be sold for less than fifty cents on the dollar of former prices.

D. H. DOUGHERTY

I carry the largest stock of Black and Colored Silks and Plushes in this country. Nothing is allowed to enter this stock but the best goods known to the American trade.

I guarantee to save you money here.

Than to miss seeing how low I am selling all kinds of goods.

A WORD TO OUR READERS

When you read of a medicine that will cure all diseases, beware of it, for every scientific physician on earth knows how fallacious such statements are. But when you read of a medicine compounded by a regular physician and surgeon of high standing, that claims to cure only a certain disease, and furnishes high proof that it does this, you can safely try it, and with the assurance that it will cure you. Dr. V. R. STONE, late physician and surgeon at the U. S. A., has placed before the public a preparation called

Which no doubt is the greatest scientific preparation yet discovered for the cure of dyspepsia in all its forms, and refers to thousands of ladies and gentlemen of the highest respectability that have been cured of cases pronounced incurable by the best physicians in the country. The following references should be sufficient to convince the most sceptical:

Mr. Albert Howard, of the Howard Watch and Clock Co., 11 Tremont street, Boston; Prof. S. Kraus, 13 Noyes Place, Boston; Dr. Samuel W. Adams, 100 Box 104, New York City; Mr. H. A. Clark, firm Clark Bros. & Co., Philadelphia, Pa. case of twenty years standing; Matthew Robinson, 302 North 21st street, Philadelphia, case of dyspeptic vertigo; William Gallagher, Record office, Philadelphia; Frank C. Smith, business manager Reading Iron Works, Reading, Pa.; Moses Thompson, Thurlow, Pa. & W. B. R. R.; Miss Kate S. Villard, Seminole, S. C.; Captain George M. Weymouth, Savannah, Ga.; Clarence S. Conner, Savannah, Ga. They furnish the best of references from every State in the Union when required. Write them at 219 Levant street, Philadelphia, Pa. GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—ORDINANCE
Office, November 24, 1882.—Hester D. Keely, administrator of the estate of J. Reid Boylston, deceased, represents that she has fully discharged the duties of her said trust, and prays for letters of dismission.
This is, therefore, to notify all persons concerned to show cause, if any they can, on or before the first Monday in February next, why said administrator should not be discharged from said trust.
